

Home Pixel Vector Motion Print Contact

Home

Welcome! This website is a collection of my final projects for VMD 105-Digital Skill for Visual Media-351. Enjoy!

Adobe Photoshop

Pixel

For my raster final project, I took a selfie photo from a backpacking trip in Brazil. I have never been to Machu Picchu so I wanted to add myself to another destination that would be fun to explore. I also wanted to create a world where I encountered a blood orange moon supersized.

Adobe Illustrator

For my vector final project, I chose to recreate Yoshi and characters from Super Mario World. I added my selfie from Brazil and added Yoshi who was my tour guide. It was a video game theme where Yoshi and I had to collect coins, stars and while avoiding the mushroom paratroopers and Lakitu.

Adobe Animate

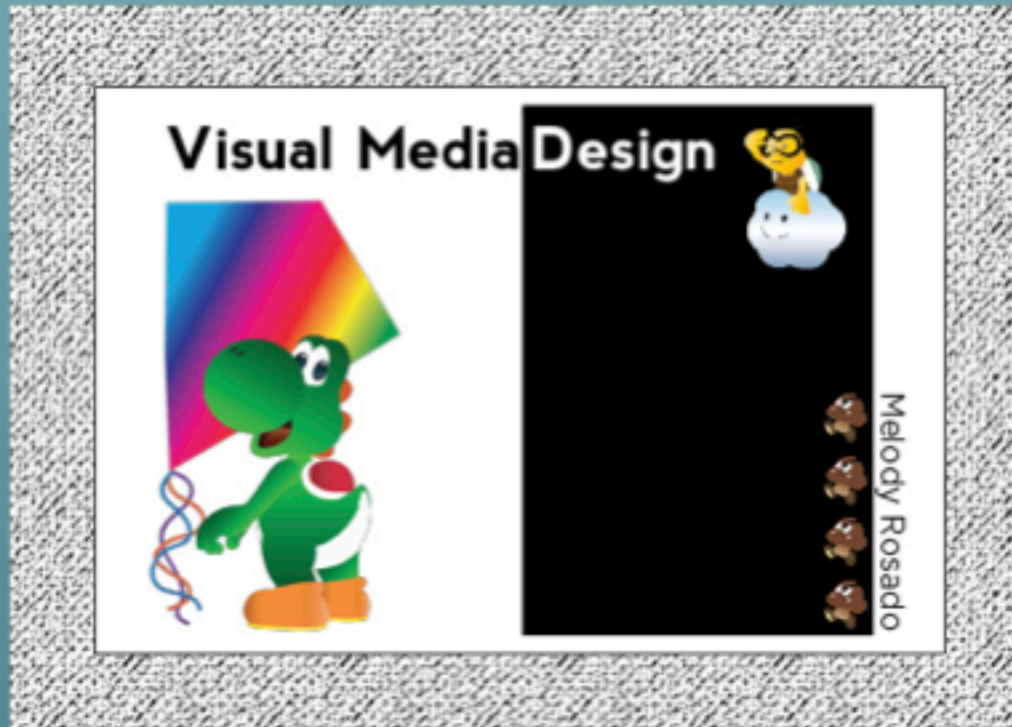

For my motion final project, I reused the Yoshi and characters from Super Mario World vectors I created. This time, instead of Lakitu being a bad guy, he helps out Yoshi. Yoshi is flying his kite in the windy city, San Francisco. A strong gust of wind snaps his kite string and Yoshi begins to lose his kite. Lakitu hears Yoshi's cry for help and comes to the rescue by retrieving his flyaway kite.

Adobe InDesign

Print

For my print final project, I gravitate towards sans serif and modern fonts. Instead of a postcard theme for the project, I wanted my photos to resemble polaroid snapshots. I went with a black background to contrast the fun bright colors.

Home Pixel Vector Motion Print Contact

Contact

